

WAITE MURDER TRIAL ON

New York Dentist and Man About Town Accused of Poisoning His Father-in-law Faces the Bar of Justice.

Wife of Accused Man Will Appear Against Him—Insanity Is Conceded to Be the Defense Which Will Be Presented.

By Associated Press Dispatch. New York, May 22.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, young New York dentist, sportsman, and man-about-town, today went on trial accused of poisoning his father-in-law, John E. Peck, wealthy drug magnate of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The defense is expected to reply on a plea of insanity, Waite having confessed the deed and asserted he was inspired "by the little man from Egypt," a dual personality.

The prosecution has engaged medical experts and summoned 115 witnesses to attack the insanity plea.

Mrs. Clare Peck Waite, wife of the accused, will appear as a witness against him, it is stated.

Mrs. Margaret Horton, a singer, who is alleged to have shared a studio with Waite, is one of the principals in the trial.

The crime of which Waite is accused is alleged to have been committed while Mr. and Mrs. Peck were visiting their daughter and son-in-law in New York in January.

Mrs. Peck died January 30, and the body was cremated at Detroit, Mich.

Peck died in March, and burial at Grand Rapids was under way when a mysterious telegram from an unidentified "K. Adams" aroused suspicion, and investigation was started which resulted in Dr. Waite's arrest and confession.

The jury was completed today. The trial is being held in the courtroom where Harry K. Thaw and Police Captain Becker were tried.

MUCH WINE

(Associated Press Cable) Berlin, May 22.—The pre-harvest predictions of an unusually big yield of wine in Germany have been more than borne out by results. The official report just issued gives a production of 737,905 hectoliters of must in 1915, the greatest production of any year since the introduction (in 1902) of the present wine law. In those thirteen years the production sank as low as 218,264 hectoliters in 1913, and the famous year of 1911 brought but 537,197 hectoliters of must.

The quality also was good. Of the white wines, 41 per cent were ranked as "very good," 52 per cent as "good" and seven per cent as "medium." Only 28,972 liters of the total consisted of red wines. Most of the white wines came from the Moselle, Saar and Ruwer districts, which contributed almost three-fourths of the total. About 95,000 hectoliters came from the Rhine vineyards.

The prices obtained were slightly below those of certain other years, but the total still reached 44,390,000 marks, the greatest on record, exceeding even 1911. In 1914 the total was only 11,680,000 marks.

The wine market, however, continues good, absorbing all offerings readily.

It has been reported to General Funston that hostile bands of Yaqui Indians were in the rear of Sibley's command.

Ambassador Page Advises S. D. Department to Interfere Sent to H. H. C. Committee

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, May 22.—Ambassador Page at London today cabled the State Department that he had been officially advised by the British Government that Jeremiah C. Lynch, a naturalized American citizen convicted of complicity in the Dublin rebellion, had originally been sentenced to death, but that the sentence had been commuted to ten years' imprisonment.

Ambassador Page also reported that John Kilgallon, of Long Island, N. Y., whose father asked the State Department to intervene in his behalf, is interned in a camp at Stafford, England.

More than 3,000 Italians were captured on Sunday by the Austrians, who also obtained possession of several villages.

Reports from Kalmar, in Sweden on the Baltic, forwarded from Copenhagen, state that a violent cannonade was heard last night, and it is believed a sea battle is in progress between German and Russian warships.

The battle of Verdun, the longest and bitterest struggle of the war, entered upon its fourth month today.

The battle centers about Dead Man's Hill, where the Germans have hurled 60,000 men back and the German attack was repulsed, it continued.

That the Germans must continue their tremendous onslaught on Dead Man's Hill, or abandon the idea of taking Verdun, seems obvious.

Fighting at Verdun Continues With Great Violence.

RUSSIANS JOIN BRITISH

Force of Cavalry After a Bold Ride Form Junction With General Gorringe On the Tigris Near Kut-el-Amara—Austrians Announce Progress Against the Italians in Southern Tyrol—On Other Battle Fronts.

London, May 22.—In the Verdun sector the fighting between the German and the French forces still continues with great violence, especially between the Avocourt wood and the River Meuse, northwest of the fortress. A French first line trench and slopes on the west of Le Mort Homme have been captured by the Germans, while the French have taken two German trenches on the road from Esnes to Haucourt. Numerous German attacks have been repulsed. Berlin reports that more than 1,300 French were taken prisoners and that sixteen machine guns and eight cannon were captured in the region of Le Mort Homme.

Northeast of the fortress the French have taken from the Germans the Haudremont quarries, which had been strongly organized, and captured eighty prisoners and four machine guns. On the remainder of the front the fighting has consisted mainly of artillery duels and numerous aerial combats. In the aerial fighting aviators of both sides have been brought down.

A force of Russian cavalry, after a bold ride, has formed a junction with the British general, Gorringe, on the right bank of the Tigris, in the region of Kut-el-Amara, where only recently a British force under General Townshend, after a long siege, was forced to capitulate to the Turks. Coincident with their arrival, however, comes report that the Turks have evacuated Bethalessa, their advanced position on the right bank of the Tigris, and also have lost to the British their Dujallam redoubt. Petrograd also says the Russians are keeping up their advance on Mosul.

The latest Austrian official report records additional progress for the Austrian arms against the Italians in southern Tyrol.

Except for German attempts at offensive against the Russians in the Illoukst region, which were repulsed, there have been only artillery duels on the Russian front.

Progressives Give Out Convention Program.

HUGHES VOTE DISCUSSED

Republican Leaders Arriving at Chicago For the National Convention. Alleged Plan of Roosevelt Boosters to Stampede Convention — Fairbanks' Manager Among Arrivals. Other Political Points.

Chicago, May 22.—A four day convention, with nomination of presidential candidates on June 9, was announced in the official program of the Progressive national convention, beginning June 7. Victor Murdock, chairman of the Progressive national committee, will call the convention to order at noon June 7. Bishop William Fraser McDowell of Chicago will deliver the invocation. The temporary chairman will follow with the keynote speech.

The Hughes victory in Oregon and Vermont primaries and the defeat of Governor Brumbaugh by Senator Penrose for control of the Pennsylvania delegation were preconvention events of last week that have caused Republican managers to revise their Chicago plans. Justice Hughes now enters the Coliseum convention with eighteen instructed delegates. The only way he can get rid of them, as politicians figure out, is by personal repudiation. Failure to repudiate, say early arrivals around national committee headquarters, means he is an active candidate and must be considered accordingly in all estimates and forecasts that are being made. With the exception of South Dakota, Texas and West Virginia, all delegates have been elected. More than 600 are without instructions.

The Fairbanks presidential boom arrived in Chicago under the official custody of Joseph Keating of Indianapolis. Mr. Keating will remain on the ground to make advance arrangements for the opening of the Fairbanks headquarters at the Congress hotel about June 1.

Republican leaders from all parts of the country are due to arrive this week, although most of the headquarters of the presidential candidates will not be opened formally until about June 1, when the national committee meets.

J. M. Dodson of Kansas City, Mo., has prepared a compulsory arbitration plank for submission to the resolutions committee of the Republican convention.

New York, May 22.—A movement that has the earmarks of an effort to stampede the Republican national convention for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is under way. A group of Republicans, largely Taft men in 1912, representing sentiment in at least thirty states, have organized a Roosevelt Republican committee, with headquarters for the present at the Biltmore hotel, and with George Von L. TROOPS SENT TO THE SCENE

Mexican Bandits Reported Operating In Texas.

El Paso, Tex., May 22.—Mexican raiders who visited the Pool ranch near Presidio, in the "Big Bend" country of west Texas, were reported south of Terlingua quicksilver mines. The people in the vicinity of Terlingua are much disturbed by the reported presence of the raiders. The Terlingua mines, which are south of Marfa and north of Presidio, were closed two weeks ago, when Glenn Springs was raided and all families were brought out, but numerous ranchers are still at their homes in the district and fear is felt for some of these.

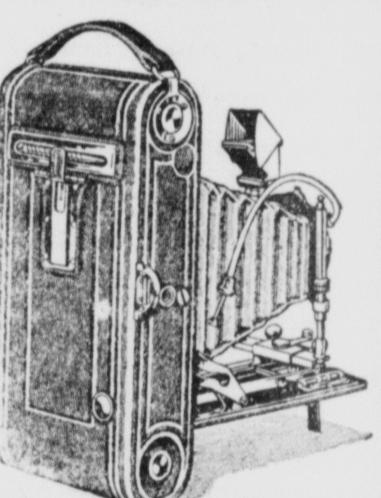

A small guard of United States soldiers is stationed at Terlingua and there is another small guard at Presidio. A troop of the Sixth United States cavalry is now being rushed to the scene of the reported band of raiders, having detrained at Marfa for the march southwest.

Because of inability to get the militia in shape hurriedly for border duty General Funston has asked that all coast fortifications on the Atlantic and Pacific be stripped of all men who can be spared, that they may be brought immediately to the Big Bend district. This information was received by Brigadier General George Bell, commanding the border patrol at El Paso.

The militiamen have been protesting that they did not enlist for border duty, and there is serious doubt as to the effective service they would render in such work.

The Menace of Unfortunates

What to do with the criminals and the mentally deficient has long been the problem of humanity.

Advance has been made by organized society in caring for the unfortunates. Great progress has been made in the effort to punish and at the same time reform the criminal. The method of dealing with the criminal is radically different these days from the methods formerly in vogue. The idea now is to protect society and to make of the criminal a useful creature fit physically and morally to do his part in the work of the world.

All fair minded people must admit that remarkable results have come from practicing the new theory.

With the mentally deficient, however, society, beyond providing ideal institutions for their care, has made little progress.

While the criminal may be remade morally, the mentally deficient are beyond human assistance.

But the appalling menace to society is clearly apparent when we realize that of the two hundred and seventy-five thousand feeble minded persons in the United States there are less than twenty-nine thousand confined in institutions devoted to their care.

When we consider in connection with that fact, announced by the secretary of the conference of Charities and Corrections, in connection with our knowledge feeble mindedness is largely due to inheritance, we cannot fail to see the dark shadow.

Organized society as such certainly seems warranted in adopting and enforcing some plan which, thoroughly humane, will nevertheless protect it against an increase in the number of mentally deficient.

As yet the state is powerless to deal with those unfortunates as it does with criminals.

The state in the administration of its laws, failing to appreciate the menace, by compelling marriage and otherwise adds to the menace which the oncoming generations must meet and deal more courageously and more intelligently.

Just "a Step" Now

A week ago a man arrived in New York City in his automobile. Of course the arrival of a stranger in the metropolis of the nation in his own automobile is not such an unusual event as to cause any considerable comment.

The arrival, in New York, of the particular man and the particular automobile one week ago, however, was an unusual occurrence, one which even blase New Yorkers were forced to note with amazement.

All because, just thirteen hours less than eight days before the time he shut off the engine of his automobile and applied the brake for the final stop, he had left Los Angeles, California in that same machine.

He had broken all records for cross continent trips in a "machine." Think of it, only a few hours more than a week from coast to coast in your own private conveyance, without mishap or danger even of any kind.

Only two score and a few more years since that same journey required the major portion of a year's time and there were all sorts of real dangers to be encountered. Hostile Indian tribes, multitudes of stampeded buffalo, prairie fires, the trackless and endless desert, mountains through which but few travelers had blazed the way. With oxen, with mules and with horses, few of which, comprising the "motive power" for the caravans that set out from Council Bluffs or St. Joe, ever lived to see the promised land of gold.

We have men in this community who made that journey across the continent following the first rush of '49, but under what vastly different conditions they made the trip from those enjoyed by the man who arrived in New York just a week ago?

The record made by that man and that automobile is marvelous. Considering the fact that his route required him to travel more than two hundred miles further than the trans continental railroad lines, it bids fair to remain the record for some time.

But the men who lived to "get through" in the forties and fifties made a record too.

The gold which lured the pioneers to the far west is paying its dividends to their descendants. The men who escaped death in the desert, murder at the hands of Indians or outlaws were not able to stay long enough to carry out the great riches in the storehouse which their courage had opened up. To them and to those less fortunate whose dust has long since mingled with that of the alkali desert, the fact that these days California is "but a step" from New York, may be credited.

Poetry For Today

A WOODLAND CARUSO.

(Who sings in Grand Opera in Billville.)

I reckon we're behind the times where village bells are ringin'; The only opera we have is that of birds a-singin'.

It starts same time as opera grand, but lasts from spring to fall, An' Mister Mockingbird—well, he's Caruso of 'em all!

When he lights in an' does his best, he sometimes goes so high His brother-birds say: "He'll get lost in some blue patch o' sky!" An' that's the very reason—since he lays 'em on the shelf— They're wantin' him to sing an' sing until he's lost himself!

He's singin' in the shadows, an' where sunbeams flash an' dance; He sings until he's tired, then he gives the rest a chance; An' when they're done their finest, they see their high hopes fall:— He sings their songs, to let 'em know they couldn't sing at all!

But we've a thousand singers, from the orchards to the pines; Even the winds make music for us in the honeysuckle vines; The light just ripples music that does the country proud, But Mister Mockingbird—he's still Caruso of the crowd!— Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

SORRY HE BOUGHT COFFIN.

At Seventy-nine, Civil War Veteran Thinks It Was a Waste of Money.

Red Bank, N. J.—William Reid's investment in an ornate coffin and an elaborately bricked in grave—both as a permanent resting place for his own body—looks like money thrown away. He celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday here recently by meeting all his old friends, going about town and proving by every known method that he might be accepted as a gilt edged risk by any life insurance company.

Mr. Reid, who was a soldier during the civil war, purchased the coffin after considerable shopping around. He dug his own grave and bricked it in at White River cemetery that he might not cause trouble to his friends after his death. He said that he didn't expect to compel anybody to haul his body out to the grave for another decade.

YOUNG FOLKS' CORNER

"The Diamond Ring."

The diamond ring game can be played by both boys and girls. The children sit in a ring or in a line with their hands placed together, palm to palm, and held straight, the fingers downmost between the knees. One of them is then chosen to represent a servant, who conceals a ring or some other small article as a substitute in her hands, which are pressed flat together like those of the rest, and goes round the circle or line placing her hands into the hand of every player, so that she is enabled to let the ring fall wherever she pleases without detection. After this she returns to the first child she touched and, with her hands behind her, exclaims:

My lady's lost her diamond ring;

I pitch upon you to find it.

The child who is thus addressed must guess who has the ring, and the servant performs the same ceremony with each of the party. Those who guess right escape, but the rest must pay forfeit. Should one exclaim, "I have it" she also forfeits, nor must the servant make known who has the ring until all have guessed. The forfeits are afterward cried as usual.

Trees Keep Records.

In cutting up logs for experimental purposes at the Madison (Wis.) laboratory of the United States forest service it was noticed that in a number of them there were little diagonal streaks or wrinkles running across the grain and that all these appeared on the same side of the trees. It was well known that these wrinkles were produced by too great a strain on the fiber at some time, either from bending in a storm or from rough handling, but as all the logs in question came from Florida and the markings were all on the north side of the log it was assumed that they were caused by some severe storm from the south that had swept over that part of the country.

By making a careful count of the annual rings of wood and knowing when the trees were cut, it was decided that the storm recited by the wrinkles must have occurred in the year 1898, and inquiries verified the fact that at that time a hurricane had swept over that region.—Scientific American.

Ants at Work.

An American botanist in the far east reports that in Burma and its vicinity the natives set the ants to work. Sandalwood, as everybody knows, is worth its weight in silver, but it is only the hard heart of the wood that is fragrant and valuable. This precious portion is overlaid by a soft and worthless layer, which forms two-thirds of the trunk of the tree. When a tree is felled and cut into suitable lengths the loggers just let it lie. Then the ants, attracted by the sweetness of the wood, attack the chunks. Within a few weeks the little insects have finished their work, and the valuable heart of the wood is freed of its worthless sappy covering and becomes a valuable article of commerce.—Boys' World.

Senses of Animals.

The deer is one of the two animals that can smell farther than any others, the antelope being the other with this fine sense of smell, and the deer can also hear farther than any other animal, but the tiger has the most perfect eyes. So you want to keep out of sight of the tiger, but if you were an animal bent on harming the deer you want to keep in the direction from which the wind was not blowing, and moreover you would have to tread very stealthily. Now, do you know why the deer can run so fast? It is because other wild animals like the tiger are fond of deer, but this animal can smell and hear farther and run faster than the beasts of prey, so it is seldom caught.

"Old Soldier."

The game of "old soldier" may be made very interesting. It is played as follows:

All the players except one stand in a line. The one who is the old soldier then totters up to the end player, saying:

"Here comes an old soldier from Botany Bay. Pray, what have you got to give him today?"

The player must then say what she will give him, but in doing so she must not use the word "yes," "no," "black," "white" or "scarlet." The old soldier's object is to try and coax one of these words out of her, and he may ask any question in order to do so. A mistake means a forfeit.

A FORCEFUL SERMON
TO THE CLASS OF '16

Baccalaureate Service of Exceptional Dignity and Beauty Will Serve as an Inspiration to the Graduates.

REV. GAGE PREACHES
WITH MARKED POWER

High School Auditorium Crowded to Capacity By Appreciative Audience Half Hour Before Service Began.

The class of 1916 was honored with Baccalaureate services of exceptional beauty and dignity Sunday night at the High School Auditorium.

Long before the appointed hour every seat was taken and many stood until the pronouncing of the benediction.

The class processional upon the stroke of eight was markedly impressive, with the glee clubs and Senior's singing the Processional hymn as they entered and passed down the aisle. The officiating ministers preceded the Glee Clubs, followed by Supt. Wm. McClain and High School Principal O. K. Probasso leading the march of the thirty-eight graduates in caps and gowns.

The High School Faculty and the members of the Board of Education followed in the wake of the graduates to seats reserved in the center of the Auditorium.

The Glee Clubs were seated beneath the class colors, old rose and silver, on the stage, beautified by an overhanging fringe of greenery and purple iris, and huge jardineres of purple iris and snow balls.

Rev. G. E. Groves, of the Church of Christ, gave the scripture reading and Rev. J. V. Stone, of Grace M. E. church, the invocation.

The class sermon, delivered by Rev. William Boynton Gage, of the First Presbyterian church, was quite a departure from the usual Baccalaureate address, and held the audience in close attention in its startling truths and splendid advice, pressed upon the graduates with much originality and force.

The minister's text was "Thou hast brought me out into a larger place," Psalm the 18th; 19th verse.

He congratulated the graduates upon their safe passing through all tests to commencement honors and voiced the hope that his message would bring to them a world of truth. With startling realism, Rev. Gage pictured the possibilities of the vast abyss which would open before the class in the next twenty-five years. How each graduate rose to success or sank to defeat would not be owing to lack of ability, lack of opportunity or the unstemmed tide of adversity; it would be due to the amount of will power used; to the determination (or the lack of it) to achieve and to the character of the foundation upon which each life is erected.

Quoting Emerson's truism that "the best lightning rod for any man is his own spinal column," Rev. Gage expressed the hope that each graduate would possess a heart of iron; stamina that refused to bend; the sweep of will to live up to the youth's rose colored dreams and attain them in fulfilled hopes of man-tury. He illustrated by pertinent story the principals which are essential for achievement—Accurate and complete knowledge; unfailing good sense; willingness to accept useful information; the finding out what one can do and the laying out of the schedule necessary for its accomplishment; the will, the grip and determination to follow pursuit to a successful end.

Rev. Gage closed his address with a strong plea for the religion of Jesus Christ as the best foundation upon which to build and the open key to future accomplishment.

Rev. A. W. West pronounced the benediction and Miss Ruth Reid played the Recession March by which the class left the hall; the audience remained seated while the graduates passed out.

HORSES RUN AWAY
SMASH-UP PLANTER

Saturday afternoon just after he had finished planting corn, Mr. Harry Sillcott, south of town, left the team attached to the planter in charge of his small son while he was at work a short distance away, and the horses took flight at a hog and ran away, tearing the planter to pieces and injuring the lad.

The lad stuck bravely to the planter until the horses ran through two gates, when he was thrown off and the falling "marker" and the falling "marker" barely struck his head, injuring him slightly. The lad also was badly bruised and scratched.

The horses were not badly hurt.

HARRY GREEN NOW IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Friends in this city will regret to learn that Mr. Harry Green's condition has grown so alarmingly worse that Mrs. Green and children started home from St. Petersburg, Fla., with him last Friday. It was feared that he would not live to reach his home and these fears are substantiated by indefinite word that it has been found necessary to stop enroute.

BIG DOINGS CLOSE SCHOOL

The Cisco Centralized Schools closed Friday, after a school year of market success and activity, with a beautiful May Day fete and big dinner.

Several hundred parents and friends gathered with the pupils for the dinner and the generous supply of picnic delicacies and substantials was supplemented by ice cream served by the teachers.

Principal Oliver Wood, assisted his corps of teachers, Misses Louise Weaver, Mada Ogle and May Solar, filled the role of entertainers splendidly and the afternoon's program reflected immense credit upon their supervision as well as upon the pupils' good work.

The feature was a "Gypsy Cantata" exceedingly pretty, with Martha Wood, Queen of the Gypsies; Frances Porter, fortune teller and Porter Campbell the yankee. There was a well trained chorus of thirty voices and music rang out merrily through the open spaces of the campus. Principal Wood played the accompaniments.

Miss Weaver put on a beautiful scarf drill and Miss Ogle a clever motion drill, while Miss Solar's primary department rendered a taking song.

After everybody had expressed their delight over the entertainment there were races, watched with great interest.

SUMMARY OF RACES.

First Foot Race—1st, Hugh Vincent; 2nd, Paul Hegler.

Second Race—1st, Willard Rutledge.

Third—Girls' Race—1st, Grace Campbell.

Fourth—Suitcase Race—1st, Leeland McCune.

Sixth—Needle and Thread Race—1st, Naomi Sessler; 2nd, Leslie Bryant.

Seventh—Pole Vault—1st, Leeland McCune; 2nd, Ray Morgan; 3rd Harry Vincent.

In the morning there was a ball game under Captains Herman McCune and Harry Long. McCune's team won by a score of 2 to 3.

The flourishing condition of the Cisco schools is most gratifying to the patrons.

LUCKY DERAILMENT
ON THE C. H. & D.

A derailment which was fortunate in some respects, occurred on the C. H. & D. just back of the Fayette Canning Company's plant, when a huge N. & W. hopper car left the rails and after cutting ties for some two car lengths, came to a stop on the small trestle at that point.

The derailment occurred about four o'clock, and by seven a wrecker was on the scene, clearing up the track by 10 o'clock.

The passenger trains detoured by way of the D. T. & I. and Pennsylvania in the local yards, and lost little time.

Had the car plunged through the little trestle it would have blockaded all traffic on the C. H. & D. and D. T. & I.

GIRL INJURED
FATHER FALLS
UNCONSCIOUS

Unusual Accident Causes Dayton Man to Suffer Heart Attack When He Thinks Daughter Fatally Injured.

Mr. C. E. Bitzer, assistant Superintendent of Street Railways, Dayton was stricken with a serious attack of heart trouble, Sunday morning while motoring in the eastern part of this city, the attack being due to the belief that he had fatally injured his daughter when the automobile struck one of the numerous ruts and ridges in the eastern part of the city.

Mr. Bitzer, wife and daughter Helen were in the auto and were leaving this city for Columbus when the machine struck a sharp ridge across the street where a sewer had been put in, and the daughter was hurled against the top of the machine with such force that her spinal column was injured, and muscles of the neck and shoulders strained.

The injury caused the girl to hold her head in one position, being unable to move her head on account of dislocated vertebrae.

Mr. Bitzer stopped the machine and, thinking that he had killed his daughter, the excitement was too much for a weak heart, and he fell, striking his head and inflicting an ugly bruise. He remained unconscious for sometime. Meanwhile Mrs. Bitzer had summoned aid and the injured were removed to a nearby residence, where they were given medical attention. The dislocated vertebrae was reduced and the girl made as easy as possible.

Later they were removed to the Cherry Hotel and remaining until Monday morning, when they returned to Dayton, Mrs. Bitzer driving the car. Both father and daughter were still very weak when they left this city.

SHIPBUILDING IS SLOW IN JAPAN

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1916, the Imperial Japanese Government granted shipbuilding subsidies amounting to 1,600,000 yen ($797,600). Fifteen ships, with a total tonnage of 68,104 received this subsidy, a decrease of 1 in the number of ships, as compared with the preceding fiscal year, but an increase of about 3,000 in the total tonnage.

Of these 15 ships 4 each are owned by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, with a total tonnage of 25,951 and 25,311, respectively. The two largest vessels built during the year, the Manila Maru (9,505 tons) and the Hawaii Maru (9,482 tons), both owned by the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, have been put on the American run, the former to Tacoma and the latter to Honolulu and San Francisco.

Shipbuilding in Japan has been greatly retarded by the difficulty of securing supplies. The fact that the export of steel is prohibited from Great Britain is chiefly responsible for this condition. Shipbuilders are not so greatly inconvenienced by sheet iron, but the prohibition of the export of keels and frames of ships hampers the industry.—From U. S. Commerce Report.

LET IN THE LIGHT.

Faded Carpets Are Not as Pitiful as Faded Cheeks.

Fresh air enthusiasts are familiar enough to most of us, but we bear less of enthusiasm for light. Darkened parlors, darkened bedrooms, darkened sickrooms are too common.

Sir B. W. Richardson, the eminent London scientist and physician, declared that when the professors of healing enter a sickroom their first words in most cases ought to be Goe's dying exclamation, "More light, more light!"

The light of the sun is God's own microbe killer, germicide, disinfectant, prophylactic, sickness healer. There is no physician, no chemical antidote no compounded prescription to be compared with sunlight. Without it nature could not perform her functions. Man, beast, bird, insect would fall victims to the deadly gases that would prevail. The horrid mists and deadly gases are dispersed and decomposed by the action of light.

Let it in, everywhere! Let the light in more and more abundantly. Faded carpets are not as pitiful as faded cheeks. Spoiled cushions are trivied compared with spoiled health. Darkened rooms are too suggestive of darkened lives.—Christian Herald.

FARM HOME IS VISITED SUNDAY

While Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hoppes, of the Sabina pike, were attending basket meeting at the Baptist church near Sabina, Sunday, someone entered their residence and ransacked it from cellar to attic, breaking several locks and escaping with Mrs. Hoppes' pocketbook containing some $8, some jewelry, stamped envelopes and also carried off Mr. Hoppes' check book and bank book, of the Fayette County Bank.

Entrance was gained by one of the front doors, and once inside the home the burglar turned everything topsy-turvy in his efforts to find articles of value. Silverware and other articles were not disturbed.

As Mr. and Mrs. Hoppes were away from the residence some six hours the burglar had ample time to work, and evidently did not hurry. No clew was left that might lead to the man's capture, and no one was seen about the premises during the absence of the owners.

DEATH SUMMONS REVELLO HUGHEY

Word was received in this city early Sunday morning of the death of Mr. Revello Hughey, brother of Dr. R. M. Hughey, at his country home near Bainbridge.

Mr. Hughey had been in failing health, subsequent to a stroke of paralysis, for about five years and for several days his death was hourly expected. Dr. Hughey, summoned hurriedly home from Cleveland, reached his brother some hours before his death.

Mr. Hughey was for a number of years a dry goods merchant of Columbus and before opening his own store was connected with the Home Store and the dry goods house of Andrew Dobbie. He also engaged in the dry goods business in Lancaster for several years before his retirement from active business life.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Rose Giffin, of Bainbridge, and two brothers, Dr. Bernard Hughey of Frankfort, and Dr. R. M. Hughey of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted under the auspices of the Knights Templar Commandery of Lancaster, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon; the interment to follow in the Bainbridge cemetery.

Mr. Hughey was a man genial and of likable personality, making friends wherever he happened to be, and his death will be learned with regret by a number of friends in this city as well as by his larger circle of friends in Columbus and Lancaster.

PEACE IS NOT NOW POSSIBLE

Allies Say They Stand For Fight to a Finish.

ATTITUDE IS EXPLAINED

Statement of High French Official at Petrograd Made With the Full Sanction of the Entente Governments. Wilson and Lansing Informed That Peace Overtures Would Prove Unwelcome.

Washington, May 22.—From sources close to the entente governments President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have been informed that peace proposals at this time are out of the question.

The allies declare that the time will not be ripe "until Germany's military dominance has been completely broken."

Realizing that this position assumed by the allies might tend to unfavorably influence public opinion in neutral countries, the chancelleries in London, Paris and Petrograd have discouraged all talk of peace proposals. The attitude of the entente, however, has been explained to the world by Ren Viviani of the French cabinet, who, with the full sanction of all the entente governments, made a statement in Petrograd in which he said that the allies stand solid for a "fight to a finish."

Diplomatic circles here fully realize the importance to be attached to this official utterance made through the French embassy in Petrograd. It is in fact the first statement from an authoritative source setting forth the entente reply to Germany's proposal to bring about the end of the struggle.

Monsieur Viviani's statement has added importance here from the fact that it exactly coincides with the information which is understood to have been communicated both to President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. It explains why Secretary Lansing is understood to believe that any proposal for mediation now would simply vitiate the position which the United States may logically hold when the time to discuss peace finally does arrive.

The entente allies have translated Germany's peace offer into meaning that the imperial government is taking measures far in advance in an effort to end the war. The entente claims that they are daily growing stronger in both armament and men. They claim that their campaign will slowly but surely break Germany's power by means of their additional resources, backed by the control of the seas.

Information has been received showing that the failure of this summer's crop in Germany would spell unprecedented disaster. Heroic efforts are being made in Germany to deal with the food problem which would be involved in this contingency, but so far no solution is in sight. The German officials are now devoting their time exclusively to offsetting the effects of the British blockade.

IN A FLASH

New York, May 22.—Mortally injured when the automobile which he was driving overturned after toppling off a twelve foot embankment near Dover, N. J. Alfred N. Dalrymple, chairman of the Essex county (N. J.) Republican committee and leaders of the New Jersey delegation to the Republican national convention, died in the hospital at Dover. Mrs. Dalrymple, who was with him in the automobile, escaped almost uninjured, as did Andrew C. Snyder of Newark and Mrs. Snyder. Mrs. Snyder was pinned under the automobile, but escaped serious hurts.

STOLE COSTLY LACE

(By American Press)

Washington, May 22.—One of the biggest robberies in the history of Washington occurred when a person or persons unknown entered the auction place of Drury & Garber and from a single trunk stole rare laces valued at $14,823. The goods had been consigned to the local firm by John Boutress of Atlantic City, N. J., and arrived here Saturday. Evidently the job was the work of a connoisseur. The very finest of the handsome laces, all point de Venise, were taken and inferior specimens left behind.

COX FUNERAL

(By American Press)

Cincinnati, May 22.—Funeral services over the remains of George B. Cox, former Republican leader of Hamilton county, and who died Saturday after a long struggle against death, were held this afternoon at the Cox home here. Mr. Cox was an Elk, and members of that organization had charge of the services. Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Mr. Cox was sixty-three years old and was born in Cincinnati. He had little education, but his native wit and wonderful estimate of men stood him well in after years. He was a delegate to nearly all the Republican national conventions from 1888 to 1908. It was literally true that he had much to do with the making or unmaking of congressmen, governors and even presidents.

Mrs. Cox has received hundreds of messages of condolence from prominent persons in all parts of the country.

OF IMPORTANCE OVERSHADOWING

(By American Press)

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 22.—The so-called worldly amusements and their relation to members of the Methodist Episcopal church probably will overshadow in importance the majority of the proposals to be presented to the general conference during the fourth week of the quadrennial session, which began today. Two definite propositions will be submitted, one from the majority of the committee on the state of the church, which favors the retention of the present prohibition against card playing, dancing and theater-going, and another from the minority of the same committee, which will ask that the paragraphs be eliminated and that the position of the church as opposed to these amusements be made clear by other means.

The rules of the church now provide expulsion as a penalty for members who engage in these diversions. It is claimed that this is not enforced by any pastor, though previous attempts to effect a change have always failed.

DEADLY QUICK

(By American Press)

Ellwood City, Pa., May 22.—Enraged when a negro porter entered his room in the Central hotel, A. S. Lyons of Pocahontas county, W. Va., shot up the place, and two men are in the Senango hospital expected to die. The negro who stirred Lyons' wrath escaped injury. When the porter requested Lyons to take a room other than the one first assigned him, Lyons drew a revolver. The negro disappeared. Lyons dashed downstairs, entered the barroom and began shooting. Bullets struck Louis White, a bartender, near the heart, and Albert Gasser in the head.

ARMY BILL A LAW

(By American Press)

Washington, May 22.—The house approved with only 23 dissenting votes the conference report on the army reorganization measure, which already had been accepted by the senate. It provides for a regular army, with a peace strength of more than 200,000 men, backed by a federalized national guard of more than 400,000, and carries many reorganization features worked out by war department officials to make the nation's fighting arm more efficient.

JUSTIFY RETREAT

(By American Press)

Rome, May 22.—The official statement issued by the Italian war office reviews the events of the last seven days leading to a rectification of the Italian lines between the Adige and the Astico and explains the reasons justifying the retreat. The statement says that owing to the nature of the ground the abandoned positions were not permanent, but were only destined to be the base for a further advance.

GIVE UP SKIN

(By American Press)

Chicago, May 22.—Nineteen pupils of the Waukegan township high school gave help to a little boy fighting for life at the Lake County hospital. A crazy quilt of cuticle was provided by the nineteen boys to cover an open wound on nine-year-old Walter Lanucha's body. The boy was scalded several weeks ago.

POPE'S APPEAL

(By American Press)

Rome, May 22.—Pope Benedict's appeal to the kaiser to discontinue submarine attacks on unarmed ships is likely to be successful, provided that the allies agree to use submarines exclusively in regular naval warfare. Vatican circles are optimistic with regard to the outlook.

TORNADO HITS OKLAHOMA TOWN

Nine Lives Snuffed Out and Forty Persons Injured.

Denison, Tex., May 22.—Nine persons were killed and thirty-eight injured and Kemp City, Okla., eight miles west of Denison, was wiped off the map by a tornado which swept a path three-quarters of a mile wide and five miles long in the Kemp City section. Only three small dwellings remain standing at Kemp City.

Twelve business houses, a two-story hotel and sixty residences were demolished in Kemp City. This is the second time in recent years that the little town of 300 inhabitants has been visited by a tornado. Merchants said that the town probably would not be rebuilt.

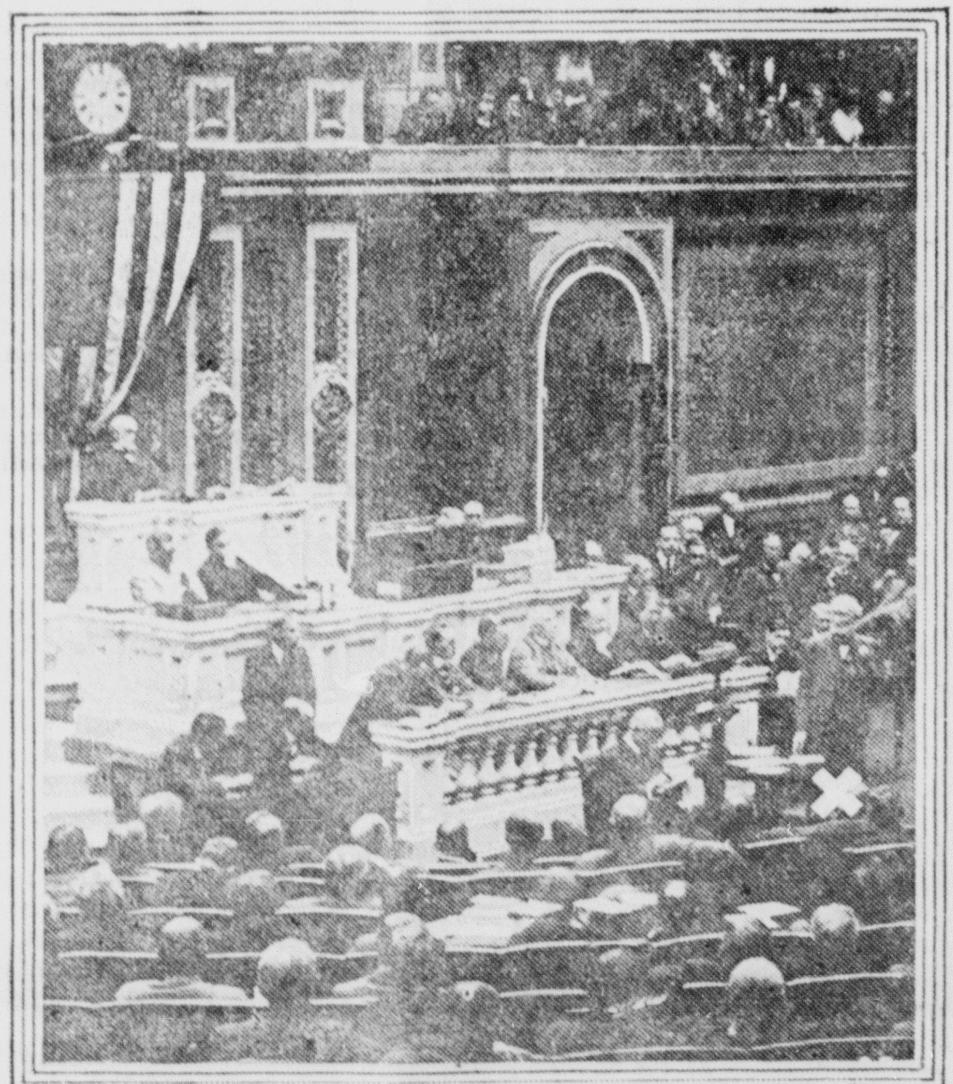

Eight were killed in the town, while the other victim, a child, was killed in the collapse of its father's home just across the Red river in Texas. The dead: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cox, Dr. and Mrs. William Brinson, Chaney Battle, cashier of the Bank of Kemp; M. E. Thomas, postmaster; Artie Pleasant, Mrs. J. W. Hively, and the six-year-old daughter of Dr. J. J. McCullough.

PORT SAID ATTACK

(By American Press)

London, May 22.—An attack on Port Said, the northernmost point on the Suez canal, by two Turkish aeroplanes, resulting in two deaths, is announced in a statement received by the war office from the British headquarters at Cairo.

HOUSE GIVES UP HOUR TO UNCLE JOE

To celebrate the eightieth birthday of Congressman Joe Cannon of Illinois, former speaker of the house, his colleagues for first time in history take hour off to pay respects to a representative.

He said had been issued several years ago to him and Rubrake's wife. The latter explained that the license was secured as a joke and never had been used.

AVIATOR KILLED

(By American Press) Paris, May 22.—George Boillot, automobile racer and aeronaut, has been killed in a fight with five German aeroplanes. He succeeded in bringing down one of the German machines before a bullet pierced his heart.

CONVICTS FED TOO WELL

Chemists Say Inmates of State Institution Get Too Much Food.

Topeka, Kan.—The men confined in the Kansas penitentiary are fed better than is necessary for the work that is required of them, according to a report on the food served the prisoners by Professor E. H. S. Bailey of the chemical laboratories of the University of Kansas. The report has been filed with the civil service commission. The test was made of the foods served to the prisoners in December and January.

The chemists collected samples of the twenty-four different articles of food furnished the prisoners, and only three were found to be below standard, and the quantity furnished each prisoner was more than sufficient for his needs. The cheese was of poor quality, and the pepper contained too many pepper shells. The bread, while nutritious, was not first class, due to a poor bakery at the prison.

"Some of the inmates of the penitentiary are performing hard, muscular work," said the report, "but a large number are doing only moderate work, so that the average would not be much above moderate muscular work, which chemists have found can be done efficiently on food containing 3,490 calories or heat units daily. In no case was the food served at the prison below 4,000 calories a day, and in many instances the food was above 5,000 calories a day."

"AN ETHER SOUSE."

Prisoner Tells Judge Why He Stole Drug From Hospital.

Los Angeles, Cal.—How and why he invaded the county hospital, stole a can of ether, a package of iodofrom and a roll of bandages, told by H. L. McCaslin in Judge White's court, was declared by the court to be the most peculiar statement ever made before him.

McCaslin described himself as "an ether souse" and pleaded guilty to the larceny charge. According to his story, his indulgence in the soporific dates back two years. He said:

"One night I started to ride to work at Bakerfield on a motorcycle and on the way was struck by a car. They took me to a hospital to operate on my leg, and for the first time in my life I smelled ether. I thought it was the finest experience I ever had. Since then I have persuaded six more doctors to operate on me. Then I found I could buy the drug."

"Lately I have been living in Pomona. On Orange day I brought some of the fruit from Pomona to the county hospital, where I met some of the boys who were there when I was a patient. I got a chance to get a big can and some things for my leg. Then I was arrested."

Judge White sentenced McCaslin to ninety days in jail.

MONEY IN WOODEN LEG.

Body to Be Exhumed in Search For Woman's Wealth.

St. Louis, Mo.—Charles Kroener of Detroit will have the body of Miss Elizabeth Hauck exhumed at Alton to look for money which he thinks she may have concealed in her wooden leg. When she died, Sept. 15, $700 was found in her clothing. Kroener, who was her guardian, thinks she must have had more money than that.

Kroener also doubts whether the finding of the coroner's jury that she killed herself is correct. He is making an investigation and will place evidence in the hands of the state attorney and ask him to take action.

Miss Hauck was thirty-five years old. She was formerly in the millinery business in St. Louis, at California avenue and Arsenal street. She set herself up in business with part of the $3,000 she received from a railroad company for the loss of her leg twenty years ago. On account of failing health she stored her millinery stock and went to Alton.

SHE FAINTS AT WAR NEWS.

Later Seized With Convulsions After Reading Newspaper Headlines.

New York.—A well dressed woman gazed fixedly at headlines of newspapers on a stand at Fourteenth street and Sixth avenue for a few moments and then fainted. Later she was seized with convulsions.

The hundreds attracted by her screams and struggled with two policemen heard her say she had lost two brothers in the war. Dr. Loughlin of St. Vincent's hospital diagnosed the case as acute dementia, probably caused by her bereavement, suddenly recalled by what she had read in the headlines.

At Bellevue hospital the woman said she was Mollie Fogarty, but gave no address. She is about thirty-five years old.

A Good Judge.

"I take great pride in my ability to judge human nature," said Ike Van Quentin. "A few months ago I let a friend have $10, and I was confident at the time he would not pay it back. And he didn't."—Kansas City Star.

A NEW USE FOR LETTERS B.P.O.E.

"Babies' Protection Our Endeavor," Is the Latest

SLOGAN OF COLUMBUS ELKS

Benefit Jubilee From June 1 to 10 Inclusive to Be the Biggest Event in the History of the State—Half of the Proceeds to Go to Children's Hospital Fund—Packard Car to Be Given Away.

Columbus, O.—(Special)—New use has been found for the initial letters of the Benevolent Order of Elks—B. P. O. E.—and there has come into existence the slogan, "Babies' Protection Our Endeavor," as the one which is to make the benefit jubilee, June 1 to 10, inclusive, the biggest event of its kind.

NEW ELKS' HOME IN COLUMBUS, WHERE BENEFIT JUBILEE WILL BE HELD JUNE 1-10.

In the history of the state, or even of all Elksdom. The Columbus lodge has thrown itself heartily into the enterprise of helping out the Children's hospital by raising a large sum to help complete the fund started in the Capital City a few weeks ago.

Half of the proceeds of the jubilee, after expenses are paid, is to be devoted toward the Children's hospital fund and half is to go to the charity fund of the Columbus Lodge of Elks, to be kept for future contingencies.

Business men will vie with each other in marching gear that will amuse the people.

Wives, mothers and sisters of Elks will furnish an Elks' parcel post, which will be one of the features. Every package will be sold before inspection. To give real zest to the jubilee, however, a Packard touring car, valued at $2,750, will be given away on the final day. The car has already been secured and is on exhibition at the new Deshler hotel.

VENT was thrilling. A cyclone overtook him, and he sought refuge in a field where a hay pole stood. According to his story, he held to the pole and was blown around it like a whirligig. Finally the pole was uprooted, but he hung on, and he and the pole were landed 300 yards away on the hillside. He's living within a stone's throw of the place now.

POWER OF PRAYER.

Mother Will Mortgage Home to Go to Her Kidnapped Children.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Eager to see her two children, kidnapped from her fifteen years ago and just found after a search she never abandoned. Mrs. Ella Barnhart declared that she would mortgage her little home and go to them at once. "It was the power of prayer," she said, in telling how, after inquiring from house to house in the cities of many states, she at last discovered the whereabouts of her boy and girl in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Barnhart was living with her husband at Mount Vernon, Mo., when her husband kidnapped the children while she was sick. As soon as she recovered she started the search which lasted for sixteen years.

Three Brothers Lose Eye Apiece. Albert Lea, Minn.—The right eye of Hugo Brenner, a young farmer, was torn from its socket the other day while he was cutting down a tree. This is the third accident of its kind in the Brenner family. While his brother William was playing mumble-the-pegs recently his companion flipped the knife too high, and the sharp blade penetrated the left eye. Another brother was kicked in the right eye by a colt.

COURAGE WINS HER

Stand Made by Suffragists Impresses Pearl White.

ONCE SCORNED THEIR FIGHT.

Her Views Changed When She Saw How Bravely the Women Marched in a Parade in New York Despite a Cold, Miserable Day.

New York.—"You see, it was like this," said Miss Pearl White, curling her slender figure up on a corner of her couch. "I was one of those who found suffragettes funny. They handed me a laugh many a time just because I thought they were pulling a speech off to get themselves heard. But I tell you I didn't think that after their October parade. It was on an awfully cold, mean day, if you recall it, and the way those women came up the avenue beating against the wind, with their white dresses on, fairly gave one a thrill.

There they stood, hour after hour, waiting to get into line, and there weren't six of them that 'beat it for home,' I'll make my guess.

"I like to see women who dare to do things. There are hundreds of women working for their living, and most of them don't dare say what they think. But those suffragettes, they've got their courage right with them, all the time," went on the plucky, daredevil "movie" star.

She it was who took up the dare when some one said no girl could be a steeplejack, and on April 15, dressed in the part of a sign painter in overalls and cap on which "Votes For Women" gleamed across the visor, Miss White let herself down an electric sign twenty-two stories above Broadway.

Miss White is as lithe as a panther. She can twist her pliant figure into more curves than most women. Half Italian and half Irish, she comes from Missouri, and so she adds keenness to her Celt and Latin traits. "I pay taxes," said she thoughtfully. "Why shouldn't I say something about what is to be done with my tax money? I pay income tax, too, just as if I were a man. I earn money too. In my profession a woman star earns more than a man, yet I have nothing to say about the income tax law nor about any other law. Why shouldn't I vote? Women are doing every kind of work men do, and over in Europe they are suffering as much as men suffer. If war should come to America they would suffer here. I want to vote for president of this country, for I know who I think ought to govern us. But I shan't have anything to say about the president. I'll have to abide by the decision of men, who may not care half as much as I care."

"Do you think there is any such thing as mind reading?" asked the eminent diplomat.

"Oh, yes!" replied Miss Cayenne. "If I pay very close attention to what you say and analyze it carefully I often fancy I get a glimmer of what you are thinking about."—Washington Star

"Is that all it says about him?" "Yes—except that he was for many years entirely dependent on well to do relatives."

"Inh, he was no fool! If you have well to do relatives, why use your brains?"—Judge.

CRUSHED BY JUNK IRON.

Victim in a Car Released When Cries Attracted Train Crew.

Lafayette, Ind.—When a westbound Wabash freight train was passing through Lafayette recently the shrieks of a man in distress were heard, and the train was brought to a standstill.

When the train crew investigated it was found that James Fisk of Springfield, Mass., aged twenty-four, had become imprisoned in a car of loose junk iron.

Fisk had been "beating" his way on the train, and a short time before the cries were heard the train had broken in two. When the cars came together with a crash a mass of junk iron slid over on top of Fisk's legs. At the time he was sleeping, and it was impossible for him to free himself. He could not be rescued until the car had been bumped several times to jar the mass of iron away from his legs. He was taken to the hospital in a terribly crushed condition. His cries awoke hundreds of people from their sleep. It is probable he will recover.

CHAMPION HAND FISHERMAN

Penn Yan (N. Y.) Woman Catches Big Whitefish After Struggle.

Penn Yan, N. Y.—Mrs. Jennie Pratt is probably the champion hand fisherman. Mrs. Pratt, who lives at the foot of Keuka lake, caught a big palatable whitefish with her hands after a considerable struggle, during which she struck her face on a cake of ice.

She saw what looked like a piece of ice floating on the water. Investigation showed it was a whitefish swimming on the water surface. She caught it with her hands, but he wriggled away. Mrs. Pratt dropped to her knees, thrust her arm to her shoulder in the water, struck her cheek on a cake of ice, but caught that fish.

The Race With the Ram.

In Morocco the strange season of the Mohammedan new year, beginning March 9, is generally called "Ait-el-Hanwela," the ram feast. The people of Morocco pay more elaborate attention to the item of sacrifice than any other Moslems. In every town a supreme offering of a ram or he goat takes place at the door of the principal mosque. Immediately after it is struck by the official Imam in presence of the multitude it is flung on the shoulders of a stalwart Moor, who, exerting his utmost strength, runs like a deer through the narrow streets, pursued by a rabble.

The poor animal is pelted with stones by boys and is jeered at with execrations from every house, as it is reputed to be carrying the sins of the people. The man rushes along with his burden till he reaches the door of the cadi's palace.

If the animal is still breathing the augury is excellent, for good luck is to be expected all through the year. But if the ram is dead all sorts of evil prognostications are muttered.

Not Such a Fool.

"Here's a strange case," said Mrs. Spotter to her husband. "A man they called the town fool died, and they weighed his brain. It was heavier than the average."

"Is that all it says about him?"

"Yes—except that he was for many years entirely dependent on well to do relatives."

"Inh, he was no fool! If you have well to do relatives, why use your brains?"—Judge.

THE MAXWELLS FALL VICTIMS TO ATHLETICS

Only About 250 People See a Rather Ragged, Listless Game With Few Bright Bits of Fielding and Hitting Featuring.

In a rather ragged game the Athletics took the Dayton Maxwells into camp Sunday by 7 to 5 score.

The local team gave Snow fairly good support, the outfield support furnishing the only touch of brilliancy in the contest. Lewis, who was shifted to short, played a star game with nine flashy accepted chances. At the bat too, Lewis finished the day with a four hundred per cent average, plus two tallies.

Runnels wound up with a 50-50 batting average—one of his bingles being good for the circuit.

His record at the plate in a measure, atoned for his weakness in the field, where he missed two out of four chances.

Grandle at first led in the hitting with three hits out of four times up.

The Maxwells were a decidedly dead organization while their catcher, Voltz, contributed to the disaster by pulling two costly errors of commission aside from several of omission.

COTTERILL LOSES FOR THE GIANTS

The New Holland Giants broke even Sunday afternoon in a double header at New Holland with the Columbus Cadillacs, taking the first game 10 to 1, and losing in the second, 8 to 4.

Reno pitched champion ball in the first game, fanning ten men and allowing little quarter to his opponents.

Cotterill, opening the second game at the rubber for Holland acquitted himself as unfavorably as Reno had well, and in the three innings he stayed on the mound he allowed nine bases on balls and seven hits and the Cadillacs scored eight runs.

Reno then went in, and during the remainder of the game the visitors failed to get a single runner as far as second base.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

(By Associated Press Cable)

Zurich, Switzerland, May 22.—The government of Saxony has decided to take over complete control of the generation and distribution of electricity in the state. Coal fields and one big generating station have already been acquired, and the Saxon Landtag has just voted several million dollars for further outlays. Eventually it is expected that the whole electrical supply in the kingdom will be taken from the state system so that the government will be able to fix the lowest possible charges. At the same time the government has no intention of preventing local public bodies or private corporations and individuals from producing their own electrical power.

As a beginning, the government has purchased for a million and a quarter dollars, the steam generating station at Hirschfelde on the river Neisse, belonging to a Berlin company. This station has already a capacity of 25,500 kilowatts and the plant is quite new. Moreover it is close to one of the coal fields bought by the state. Later the government will erect new works near the western coal fields, where there are already stations with which negotiations are now going on to arrange the necessary co-operation.

INTEREST DECREASED

Tokio, May 22.—The bank of Japan has announced a reduction of its interest and discount rate by two per cent, equivalent to one-fifth of an American cent. The decision is believed to be due to the bank's desire to extend greater facilities to the promotion of industrial enterprise.

FOOLS THE COWS.

Dead Nettle Is Harmless, but Makes Itself Look Dangerous.

In this case the joke's on the cow. She's fooled into the belief that this little, harmless plant will bite her. The plant helps with the joke by masquerading as a dangerous weed, with real teeth, whereas it wouldn't hurt a flea. This plant is the dead nettle.

One of its cousins, the stinging nettle, covers itself with sharp, poisonous hairs. The cow has learned to avoid the weed. So the dead nettle makes up to look like its cousin, and the cow leaves it alone.

The dead nettle grows in waste places all over eastern United States. It isn't as useful as its near relative in the East Indies and in China, called ramie. This relative also is harmless and plays similar jokes on Chinese cows and other grazing animals.

But ramie furnishes a vegetable fiber which is stronger than hemp, as fine and shiny as silk. It is used in making cordage and nets, and paper made from it is used for banknotes.

So when the ramie imitates the stinging nettle it is protecting itself from grazing animals so it may grow into money.—Philadelphia North American.

"Look here, old man," said a noted etcher, "do you paint all your own pictures?"</
